

Twins Win Suit In Los Angeles For Surplus C46

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The scrappy Finn twins have won a federal court ruling that they are legal owners of a C46 war surplus transport plane, climaxing a two-year legal battle in which they—

Confused prosecutors by their identical looks, one going to jail several days for refusing to tell his name while the other stood guard over their plane.

Handcuffed a United States attorney in a citizens' arrest for allegedly violating their constitutional rights by holding the plane.

And went on a 23-day hunger strike while in federal custody, protesting one-year sentences on charges of interfering with the federal officer they handcuffed.

Rental $15,000

George and Charles Finn, 40, have been grabbing headlines since the plane was seized by the government at Scott's Death Valley airstrip after they had flown it from Bakersfield, Calif., in an attempt to hide it from federal officials.

They are former Air Force fliers. U.S. District Judge William C. Mathes ordered the government Wednesday to return the plane in the same condition as when it was seized.

The judge ruled further that the government must pay the twins $50,000 if the craft is not returned—and pay the Finns $15 a day rental since the plane's seizure Sept. 15, 1952. The rental would approximate $15,000.

The twins announced they want the transport rather than the $50,000.

The plane originally was bought for a nominal sum by the Vineland school district near Bakersfield, Calif., from the War Assets Administration for use as a classroom. When it no longer needed the craft, the district sold it to the Finns.

Full Title Held

Seizing the plane, the government sued to regain title. It alleged that under terms of the sale it could be used only for a classroom or re-sold for scrap.

Judge Mathes ruled that under California law the school district acquired full title to the plane and had the right to sell it. He also held that terms of the government sale, limiting re-sale, conflicted with federal statutes on war surplus.

U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters—the man the Finns handcuffed on downtown street—said the government hasn't decided whether to appeal.

The twins expressed hope that the one-year sentences for their citizens' arrest of Waters will be banished on appeal. They are at liberty on 1,000 bond each.

Blizzards Sweep Western Europe

LONDON (AP)—Freezing winds spread snow, ice and sleet over much of western Europe today and threats of new gales sent battered North Sea shipping scurrying for shelter.

Torrential rain brought floods to parts of Britain, which still was counting the damage from Wednesday's gales.

Leicestershire, in the British Midlands, reported its worst floods in 25 years.

The first snow of the winter swept over Belgium and Holland. Dublin, capital of the Irish Republic, suffered its worst storm in 40 years. Gales and rain left a trail of broken power cables, flooded houses and disrupted roads.

French fishing ports counted 64 men missing in seven trawlers which vanished in gales. All were feared lost.

Heroic Father Dies With Two Children In Fire At Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A heroic young father and two of his four small children lost their lives Wednesday night in a flash fire which swept through the third floor of their North Side home. The mother and two other children and a maid escaped uninjured.

Earl D. Jorgensen, 30, died as he struggled through a smoke-filled bedroom on the third floor in an attempt to reach his sleeping daughters, Elizabeth, 5, and Margaret, 2. His body was found face down on the floor, not far from the girls' bed.

Firemen said Jorgensen suffered burns about the face but smoke inhalation also was a cause of his death. The children, firemen said, apparently died of suffocation. The fire was confined to the third floor at 5915 Sheridan Rd. in the Edgewater Beach district.

Jorgensen and his wife, Elizabeth, 28, were in a first floor room when their two sons, David, a twin of Elizabeth, and Eric, 4, ran downstairs and told them there was smoke in their bedroom. Mrs. Jorgensen took the boys to the home of a neighbor, and Jorgensen raced upstairs to rescue his daughters. But all three were trapped by the flames. Firemen rushed them to Edgewater Hospital but they were pronounced dead upon arrival.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Jorgensen was midwestern advertising representative for the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Red Quiz Ended By Sen. Potter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate hearing on Communists in defense plants closed down Wednesday night after only two days and its future course apparently rested with the absent Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

In all, the Senate Investigations subcommittee heard 11 witnesses. McCarthy, its chairman, had announced before the hearings began that 42 subpoenas were being issued.

As the hearings ended, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), who was presiding, said there were no present plans to resume, although he said there were "other witnesses who could be called." James M. Juliana, the subcommittee's acting staff director, said staff investigative work would continue.

"I don't know what Sen. McCarthy's plans are or when he will be back," Potter told newsmen.

McCarthy left Washington Tuesday for a rest of 10 days or so after he had appeared at the public hearing briefly to read a statement which has been interpreted as an open break with President Eisenhower.

McCarthy's destination has not been disclosed. He was been trying to regain full use of an elbow which was injured several weeks ago in a Milwaukee handshaking accident.

Movie Actress Dies; Barbiturate Blamed, Autopsy Is Ordered

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An autopsy was ordered today into the death of Gladys George, 50-year-old former movie and stage actress found unconscious Wednesday in her apartment.

Her physician, Dr. Russell Jones said there was a possibility her death was caused by a barbiturate. He said the actress had been treated, successfully, for throat cancer a few years ago.

Miss George was acclaimed as one of the best performers of 1936 by the Motion Picture Academy for her role in "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie."

The daughter of Sir Arthur and Lady Clare, she was married four times. Her last husband was a Los Angeles bellboy, Kenneth C. Bradley. They were wed in 1946 and divorced in 1950.

Miss George had become a recluse in recent years.

Iron River Church Destroyed By Fire

IRON RIVER (AP)—Fire Wednesday night destroyed the 53-year-old St. Agnes Catholic Church in Iron River. No one was injured in the spectacular fire. The blaze, believed to have started in the church kitchen, was discovered shortly after a church social party.

Democrats Will Aim Criticism At Eisenhower

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two Democratic leaders Wednesday night called on their party to hold President Eisenhower responsible for the actions of his lieutenants and to speak out on "deficiencies" of the administration.

Averell Harriman, governor-elect of New York, told a victory dinner audience:

"We've got to quit this business of excluding President Eisenhower from criticism of the unworthy campaign tactics that have been adopted by the Republican party, and that he has condoned."

"We've got to stop avoiding holding President Eisenhower responsible for the actions of his lieutenants and of the Republican party."

Paul M. Butler of Indiana, who said he proposed to be a fighting national Democratic chairman, declared, "We will speak out plainly and vigorously concerning the deficiencies of the President and his party in their capacity to govern and unite the American people. This is our duty. It will be performed in the best interests of our country."

Butler said he had admired Eisenhower's military leadership "as much as any American but it is a matter of sincere regret to me that he has seemed unable to bring to the tasks of civil government the qualities that made him such a renowned military leader."

"The truth is that our President has not shown the particular qualities that enabled Harry Truman to write such a courageous page in history, not only for himself as president, but also for the country he served so loyally."

Maine Farmhouse Fire Fatal To 4 Out Of 18

VAN BUREN, Maine (AP)—Four of 18 persons sleeping in a rambling, two-story farmhouse were burned to death in a fire Wednesday.

They were Mrs. Camille Lausier, 46; her daughter Cecile, 5; and two of her grand children, Arlene Bouchard, 3, and Nancy Bouchard, 2. Six other children of Mrs. Lausier and another grandchild were hospitalized.

Cause of the fire was unknown.

Jilted Suitor Gives Up After Abducting LaPorte Reporter

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—A spurned apprentice printer was held for $1,500 bond today for marching a blonde girl reporter out of the Herald-Argus newspaper office at gunpoint.

Preliminary charges of disorderly conduct and assault were filed against the printer after he rendered to police late Wednesday.

Robert Panek, 25, a tall, gaunt printer's apprentice, brought reporter Abbey Johnson, 22, back to the office an hour and 40 minutes after forcing her into his car. She said he had threatened her but had proposed marriage. She said she refused.

Panek handed her his .22-caliber rifle when he let her out of his car, she said.

A short time later he appeared at the police station and gave himself up. He was held on preliminary charges of disorderly conduct.

Miss Johnson was reported too unnerved to talk to out-of-town newsmen. Bob Topping, a Herald-Argus reporter, said she had told him Panek was trying to get her to reconsider a decision not to date him any more.

The girl had resigned from the paper, effective Dec. 18, to return to her Chicago home, explaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, were ill. She has been with the Herald-Argus for 13 months.

Topping, who witnessed the abduction, gave this account of the incident:

"Panek walked over to the desk where Miss Johnson was working. Forbes Julian, the managing Editor, looked up, saw what was going on and yelled, 'Hey, what are you doing?'"

"Then Panek said, 'I'm not going to hurt anybody.' He handed Abbey a picture of himself. Told her to break it, but she didn't. Then he grabbed it back and smashed it."

"He told Abbey to march out ahead of him. The pair went down a back staircase and to Panek's car."

October Big Baby Month In Michigan

LANSING (AP)—October was a boom month for baby births in Michigan, the State Health Department reported today.

The department said 17,406 births were reported in October, a new high. The previous high was the 17,130 births recorded in August of this year.

The department said Michigan continues to be the most rapidly-growing state population-wise among the north central states.

The population passed the seven million mark this year and is expected to reach eight million by 1960.

Six men of the 36 indicted have now been convicted on charges of conspiracy or bribery. Eight others have pleaded guilty to similar charges. None has been sentenced.

Eisenhower To Favor Progressive Moderate GOP Nominee In 1956

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was pictured today as planning a vigorous battle to swing the Republican presidential nomination to a "progressive moderate" in 1956 if he decides against seeking a second term.

He coined the phrase "progressive moderates" Wednesday at a news conference in talking about the kind of men he believes should run the government.

McCarthy Revolt Noted

Friends, who asked not to be named, said the chief executive is giving a great deal of thought to how to assure that such men—and women—do run the government.

Employers Want College Men; See Big Year Ahead

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern University said today the nation's employers apparently see a good year ahead for business and industry because they plan to hire more college and university graduates than in 1954 and pay them higher salaries.

The university based its views on the ninth annual nationwide employment survey released by Dr. Frank S. Endicott, Northwestern's director of placement. The survey showed:

A representative group of 152 large and medium-sized companies report they will hire 19 per cent more engineers and other technical graduates and 2 per cent more non-technical graduates than last year.

Average starting salary in all fields represented by the companies will be $314 a month, $6 higher than a year ago. Beginning engineers will be offered an average of $361 a month and graduate accountants, $332 a month.

The survey also showed that the graduate hired five years ago at $225 a month now is earning $508, if he made normal progress. In the sales field, average salaries have risen from $254 to $547 a month.

Endicott said 1949 graduates chosen by their companies as the outstanding men hired that year have increased their starting salaries by 240 per cent and now are averaging $639 a month.

Hatoyama New Prime Minister

TOKYO (AP)—Ichiro Hatoyama, a pro-American Conservative who wants increased trade with Russia and Red China, tonight was elected prime minister of Japan—a post he might not hold more than three months.

A coalition of Hatoyama's Democrats and the Socialists moved the 71-year-old diplomat into the spot from which Shigeru Yoshida was forced to resign two days ago.

The vote was 257 for Hatoyama and 191 for Taketora Ogata, Yoshida's deputy premier and new president of Yoshida's Liberal party.

For their support, Hatoyama promised the Socialists he would dissolve the Diet (parliament) next month and call new national elections before March 10.

The Socialists threw their support to Hatoyama because they frankly figure to be the only party to gain House seats in any general election.

Yoshida, who stepped down Tuesday in the face of overwhelming opposition from the unusual coalition of Conservatives and Socialists was not present for the vote. His resignation did not affect his status as a member of the Diet.

Hatoyama has declared he will continue Yoshida's policies of working closely with the West. The Socialists oppose Japanese rearmament and U. S. bases in Japan, both of which are favored by the new prime minister.

Martini Toothpick Gives Johnny Ray Bad Foot Infection

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Johnny Ray underwent an operation Wednesday night for drainage of what his physician described as a huge abscess on his right foot, started when the "cry" singer stepped on a martini toothpick last July.

Dr. Irving Newman said, "His condition is good but he's a sick man; it's potentially a serious thing."

Ray stepped on the toothpick while barefooted beside a swimming pool at Las Vegas, Nev., the doctor said. A Las Vegas doctor removed apparently all of the wood fragments, and the wound seemingly healed.

Six weeks ago severe pain recurred in the foot and Dr. Newman said apparently a "very small particle" of toothpick remained in the wound.

The 26-year-old singer's divorced wife, Marilyn Morrison, 24, remained in his room at Cedars of Lebanon hospital after the operation. A spokesman for Ray said they are "just good friends."

Robbers Halted By Dogcatchers At Ecorse, Mich.

MONROE (AP)—Two bank robbers who got only $1,871 and kept it only 12 minutes were held in the Wayne County jail at Detroit today for lack of $40,000 bond each.

Facing the prospect of long prison terms were Glen F. Lowe, 30, and Frank Arias, 29, both of Detroit and both ex-convicts.

Two alert dog catchers were credited with a big part in their capture. The holdup men were armed with three pistols and a hand grenade.

Cashier R. Charles Yoas of the Newport State Bank at nearby Newport said Lowe walked into the bank alone shortly before noon Wednesday, brandishing a pistol and announced:

"This is a stickup." Arias then entered, Yoas said, and the two herded him, assistant cashier Sarah Bodenmiller and bookkeeper Barbara Masseran into the vault.

The holdup men scooped money from the teller's cage and the cash drawers in the vault. After they left Yoas ran from the vault and called state police.

Eugene Glavin, Ecorse dog warden, and Patrolman John McKee, a dog warden for Allen Park, heard a police radio alarm. They drove to highway US-25 and set up a blockade with their dogcatcher's truck as the bandits' car approached.

A short time later Police Chief Bentley Galloway of Ecorse township and Lt. William Shaffer drove up. Arias attempted to pull a gun before he was subdued. Lowe surrendered with out a struggle.

Divers Try Again To Open Valve And Drain Osceola Mine

HOUGHTON (AP)—Divers, stymied three times, will try again to open a valve which would drain the flooded Osceola copper mine.

If the valve could be reached and opened, it would speed work on reopening the mine.

The third attempt failed Wednesday. Navy divers Roy Rickman and Robert McKenzie, both of Washington, said they descended to 230 feet and got 30 feet inside the mine before they encountered debris and could not reach the valve.

Aunt Sent To Prison For Torturing Child

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—A woman accused of using matches to torture the 5-year-old nephew left in her care has been sentenced to one year in prison.

Mrs. Gettie Lee Cook pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of mayhem.

Her daughter Charlene Lindsey, 16, told officers she held little Connie Thames while her mother pressed burning matches against his skin. Charlene was given a six-month suspended sentence.

Action Pushed To Release 11 From Red Jail

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and its 15 Korean War allies pressed today for speedy action on their bid to throw the moral weight of the U.N. Assembly behind their campaign to free 11 U.S. airmen jailed by Red China on spy charges.

The Assembly's ready agreement to debate the case despite Soviet delaying tactics indicated the Allies' stand would win strong support.

Put On Pressure
Day and night sessions were scheduled today on a 16-nation resolution denouncing the jailing and demanding the airmen's release.

Launching the debate Wednesday night, Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said an overwhelming vote in favor of the resolution would make it clear to Peiping that world opinion considers the detention of the 11 fliers a violation of the Korean armistice.

The U.S. delegate also called on the Communists to send home a total of 2,840 U.N. personnel he said had not yet been repatriated under Korean armistice terms. He charged the Reds still have not accounted for 470 Americans.

Lodge said earlier the Chinese have admitted holding four U.S. jet pilots in addition to the 11 peiping says have been jailed as spies.

Russians Lose Fight
Lodge took the floor after the 60-nation Assembly beat down dogged Soviet attempts to keep the item off the agenda and voted 44-5 to begin debate at once without going through committee channels. U.S. sources predicted there would be no opposition except from the five-nation Soviet bloc and perhaps a few Asian-Arab nations.

In his attempt to kill off the item, Russia's Jacob Malik argued that the Assembly had no right to intervene because the Americans were on a spy mission and could not be classified as war prisoners covered by the armistice. Malik's spy charges were echoed by representatives of Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Ore Shipping Drops Lowest Since 1946

CLEVELAND (AP)—Great Lakes vessels shipped 60,793,697 gross tons of iron ore this season, the least since 1946.

The Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn., winding up its figures for 1954, said that $8,804,666 of the tonnage was loaded at United States ports and 1,989,031 at Canadian ports.

Last year the ships loaded 95,844,449 tons, 93,759,981 at U. S. ports and 2,084,468 at Canada.

In 1946, some 59,356,716 tons were loaded.

Bonus Is $320,000
BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A $320,000 Christmas bonus will be split among some 2,600 General Foods employees at Port Cereals and Carton and Container divisions in Battle Creek. Bonuses of three per cent will be paid on the first $5,000 earned during 1954.

Local Woman Saved From Bay

The condition of Mrs. Clara Clairmont, 75, of 320 S. 13th St., rescued from the water at Municipal Dock yesterday afternoon today was reported "pretty fair" at St. Francis Hospital where she is receiving treatment.

Pulled from the water about 2:44 p. m. Wednesday, the elderly woman was given oxygen by a fire department predoctor crew both at the dock, in the ambulance and after arriving at the hospital.

William Allingham, proprietor of an auto service station at Ludington and 14th Sts., observed Mrs. Clairmont take off her coat while she was standing on the west side of the Municipal Dock. Allingham was driving on Ludington St.

Turning his light truck around, Allingham drove around to the dock. There he saw the water disturbed where the woman had jumped into the water. Her coat, a scarf and a cane were on the dock.

Allingham went to the Jensen and Jensen fish market to summon help. Sheriff's officers and police were notified. Assisting in the rescue were John Ferrari, Miles Dugener, Jon Servant, Allingham and Roy Jensen.

A scoop net taken from the fish house was used to pull the partly submerged woman close to the dock and she was then lifted from the water, which is 18 feet deep at that point. She was in the water an estimated four minutes and was unconscious when rescued.

Firemen Need Toys To Repair As Gifts To Needy Children

Escanaba firemen must have used toys now if they are to have time to repair them before Christmas, Fire Chief Nels Bergeon said today.

Firemen are engaged in their annual toy repair project in cooperation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Salvation Army, but the fire chief said the number of toys so far brought in is much smaller than last year. And unless used toys are contributed soon, it will be too late to repair and paint them, he added.

After the toys are made attractive and useable again, they are turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy children of the community at Christmas.

Fire Chief Bergeon suggested that persons who have used toys deliver them immediately to either the fire station at City Hall or in North Escanaba. In this way firemen can do their part in making Christmas happier for needy children.

No Trace Is Found Of Escoda Air Base Jet Plane And Pilot

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — The pilot of a T33 jet trainer plane missing since Tuesday night over Lake Huron has been identified as Capt. Garland D. Hanson, of Rapid City, S. D.

Hanson, stationed at Stewart Air Force Base here, took off from Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Escoda, Mich., to fly to Newburgh. That was at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday. Fifteen minutes later he reported he was having engine trouble. No trace of him has been found since then.

A land, sea and air search was conducted Wednesday without result.

Safety Leader Asks Reduced Auto Speeds

Mrs. Wm. Weycker Jr., chairman of Escanaba's citizens' safety advisory committee and also chairman of Escanaba's S-D Day observance Dec. 15, this morning issued a plea for reduced speed of automobile drivers as a means of reducing traffic accidents.

A nationwide program is under way in hope of establishing a record on Dec. 15. The objective is to have a 24-hour period without automobile accidents.

Mrs. Weycker's statement, the second in a series of seven being published in the Escanaba Press, follows:

"Our organization has made a study of the causes of traffic accidents and we are convinced that the major trouble is driving too fast for conditions. Too much speed sets the stage for disaster because:

"(1) You can't see and digest complicated traffic situations ahead as well as at high speed as you can if you slow down.

"(2) The situation up ahead arrives too soon and you simply aren't prepared to deal with it.

"(3) When you double your speed, say from 20 to 40, you take four times as much distance in which to stop.

"(4) The faster you go the less sharply you can turn in order to dodge when something goes wrong, and the more likely you are to lose control of the car and go up over the curb or over in the ditch.

"(5) When you double your speed, say 30 to 60, you multiply your striking power by four—and the harder you hit the more fatal the accident is likely to be.

"Speed in a modern automobile is extremely deceptive. When you are going from 60 on the highway to 40 as you approach a community you would swear you could get out and walk as fast as you are going. So, watch that speedometer—it's lots more accurate than your guessing.

"Driving too fast for conditions is a lot like drifting down Niagara River in a row boat. If you let yourself get too close to the falls you might just as well quit rowing because you are going to be sucked right over the falls anyway. If you drift into an intersection at an unintentional 35 miles per hour you will reach a 'point of no return'. If a car comes out of the side street it's too late to put your brakes on—you are going to have the accident anyway.

"So, one of the best ways to practice up on your driving so that you can drive as well as you know how on S-D is to watch your speed. Try slowing down a little. You will get there just about as fast anyway."

Crop Duster Carries Proposal By Plane

BOYNE CITY (AP) — At last report, Carl Demler, 40, was waiting anxiously for an answer to his unique proposal.

Demler, a professional crop duster from Deer Lake, took to the air Wednesday to ask the girl of his choice to become his bride.

His plane cruised through the sky for 15 minutes carrying a banner which read:

"Evelyn, I love you. Marry me. Carl."

Dock Repair Work Planned

Seasonal repair work on No. 6 dock will begin Thursday, Dec. 16, with a crew of about 60 men being employed, Chicago & Northwestern Railway officials have announced.

The work will consist of the annual general repairs to the dock and will probably extend through January. It is likely that additional men will be hired on the project in January.

All of the workers hired for the program will be laid off section men, bridge and building men and ore punchers, the officials stated.

Nelson Plude Of Nahma Killed In Highway Mishap

Nelson John Plude, 66, of Nahma, was instantly killed at 6 p. m. Wednesday when he walked into the side of a logging truck-trailer while crossing Highway US-2 about two and one-half miles east of Ensign.

The driver of the heavy vehicle, apparently unaware of the accident, continued on without stopping. State Police are seeking to identify the driver and truck.

Mr. Plude's death brought to 19 the number of traffic fatalities in Delta County so far this year.

Called To Husband
Coroner Otto S. Hult of Gladstone reported that Mr. Plude died of a skull fracture and broken neck.

Mr. and Mrs. Plude had been traveling east on US-2 and had parked the car on the shoulder on the south side of the highway. Mr. Plude got out and walked across the highway to the Oscar Larson residence.

Mrs. Plude told State Police that as her husband was returning from the Larson's, the car in which she sat began to roll down the hill. She blew the car horn and called to her husband. State Police said she told them.

Apparently intent upon reaching his car and not seeing the logging truck, Mr. Plude walked into the rear part of the truck, which had dual wheels. State Police said the driver of the truck would probably be unaware of the accident.

Funeral Saturday
Mr. Plude was born March 3, 1888, at Oconto, Wis. He had lived and worked at Nahma for 40 years. He was employed as a locomotive engineer for the Bay de Nocet Company until the company ceased operations.

A veteran of World War I, he served in France with the U. S. Army, and at the time of his death was a member of Walter Cole Post, American Legion, at Rapid River.

Surviving are his widow, and two brothers, Jerry and Daniel.

COMPLETES BASIC — Robert Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erickson Sr., Grand Marais, has completed his basic training at Lackland, A.F.B., Tex. He is presently attending a specialized school at Chanute Field, Ill.

3 Waukegan Men Held As Suspects

MANISTIQUE—The Manistique city police are holding three Waukegan, Ill., men as suspects as the result of an attempted breaking and entering Tuesday night at the Howard Magoon Service Station, located at Deer and Weston Ave.

Nothing was obtained from the station, but a window was broken and two other windows had been pried.

The three suspected men are Charles Watson, 21; Robert J. Brand, 24, and John Emmrich, 18. They are without funds and are reported to be enroute to Detroit. Further questioning of the men will take place today.

both of Eagle River, Wis. The body is at the Alto Funeral Home in Escanaba, and it will be removed to the family home at Nahma Friday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in St. Andrews Church at Nahma with the Rev. John Ryan officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest, where military rites will be conducted by the Rapid River American Legion post.

Rock Seniors Plan Class Play

ROCK—The Rock seniors will present their annual class play at the Rock High School Saturday, Dec. 11, at 8 p. m.

The three act comedy, "Auntie's Money", centers around dear old "Auntie" (Helen Hallinen) who is deaf and temperamental and about to bestow the lion's share of her $100,000 upon Lance (Terry Hade), her favorite nephew. Because of her deafness, she is unaware that Lance is a worthless scoundrel who is forever planning what he will do with all of the money he will receive on "Auntie's" death.

She showered many kindnesses upon him, letting the point of her her vitriolic tongue fall heavily upon her lovely niece, Lance's cousin, Veleta (Patsy Lusardi), who being a gentlewoman, will not betray Lance nor allow her young lawyer fiancé, Ruddy Boles (Howard Aalto) to do so either.

All would have gone well for Lance but for the timely arrival of two quack doctors, (Duane Vandebusch and Roger Ramseth) who, wishing to separate Auntie from some of her gold for themselves, agree to cure her deafness. Much to their surprise and Auntie's too, they do correct her hearing by a very peculiar and amusing method.

Lance, unaware that Auntie has recovered her hearing, talks a bit too much and at long last "Auntie" discovers that she has been lavishing her attentions on the wrong person. Ruddy Boles, with his constant work, does much to clear up this family feud, even if it is just a wee bit perplexing to the simple minded housemaid, Berthanna, (Martina Sinnaeve).

"Auntie's Money" was written by Tom McGee and is being produced by special arrangement with the Art Craft Play Co. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. It is directed by Senior class advisor, Mrs. Arnold Sayen.

Louis Kulju and Francis Verbrigghe are property and stage managers, Walter Kanerva and Gilbert Walimaa take care of tickets and advertising, while Gerald Saari attends to the curtains.

Specialties of the evening will be a vocal duet by James Franklin and Robert Belongie with guitar accompaniment; the Girl's Chorus with "Chopsticks", a novelty number, and "Moonlight and roses", and tap dancing by upstairs students of Mrs. Jeanette LeCaptain's dancing class, Joyce Aalto, Celia Aalto, Sandra Hill, Betty Sayen and Alice Smith.

Dean At Houghton Honored In Iowa
DES MOINES (P)—Dean Frank Kerkes of the Michigan School of Mining and Engineering at Houghton, Mich., was honored here Wednesday night at the convention of the Master Builders of Iowa.

Formerly assistant dean of engineering at Iowa State College, Kerkes was honored for his 34 years of service "to the construction industry and to the public" while at Iowa State.

The fulfillment of gathering riches is clearly explained by the Bible and the Income Tax collector.

Every Little Mama Deserves A Bunting

Any little girl would adore a real bunting for her doll this Christmas. Just like baby sister's hug-me, it is quilted, ruffled, of satin and sealed down to doll-size measurements. Mom can make it with a few jiffy stitches on the sewing machine.

Especially if Sis must make last year's doll do, perhaps with a new wardrobe also rigged together by Mom, the doll bunting will really cause squeals of delight.

All you need is one and a third yards of yellow, pink or blue lightweight satin fabric, a square of cotton batting and your time-saving ruffler, quilter and narrow hemmer attachments, and presto you've got a gift to thrill any little girl.

How to Make It

Cut two pieces of satin 32 inches by 16 inches. Cut two pieces of cotton batting 30½ by 14½ inches. Cut three pieces of satin each 4 3/4 inches wide, across width of the material.

Place the right side of the two large pieces of satin together. Stitch around three sides, leaving one end open. Place stitching about one-half inch from the edge. Press and turn to the right side.

Put two pieces of cotton batting together. Baste around edges. Insert batting in turned satin section. Smooth out and baste in position. Slip stitch the folded edges of the opened end together.

Use the quilter attachment on your machine, quilt this padded satin piece by stitching first in a vertical direction and then in a horizontal one with the lines of stitching 1½ inches apart.

Remove bastings.

Fold quilted fabric until you've made a pocket 12 inches deep. Slip stitch edges together. Finish.

bunting with a ruffle. To make the ruffling strip, stitch the three narrowstrips of satin together, using a plain seam. Press seams open. Pink the raw edges.

Attach the ruffler to the sewing machine. Set it in the No. 1 slot and ruffle the strip, making a three-quarter inch heading. Baste the ruffle to the right side of bunting around the sides and over the top. Stitch. Remove bastings.

Unlocked Door Causes Trouble

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Two detectives, with guns drawn, hurried to a candy store in the dead of night when its burglar alarm went off. They found a policeman walking around the darkened store. He found the store door unlocked, entered to check and in so doing set off the alarm.

NAMED FOR THE JOB
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Marine Pfc. Curtis I. Hash is living up to his name in Korea. The family of the former Savannah, Ga., youth reports he is a cook in an anti-aircraft battalion.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

FREE-FOR-ALL ARGUMENT

The bidding of the hand below led to quite an argument among the many experts on the scene, with the "kibitzers" supplying the loudest notes (as usual).

South dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

♠ 52	♥ QJ10872	♦ 64	♣ 1032
♠ K94	♥ K5	♦ Q832	♣ 9754
♠ N	♥ W	♦ E	♣ S
♠ AQ7	♥ A6	♦ AK10	♣ AKQJ8

This was the actual bidding in a rubber game:

South	West	North	East
2♣	Pass	2NT	Pass
3NT	Pass	4♥	Pass
4NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

The four-notrump bid could not be considered conventionally Blackwood since South had been willing to land at three notrump (as per his previous non-forcing call), hence North decided to bow out of the auction. This was a very good idea, because the fact was that no slam could have been made under the circumstances of the bidding! Against a heart clam, East could open either a spade or a club to defeat the contract; and at six notrump, played from the North position, as it would have been, a spade lead would have been fatal. Nor could South have made six clubs against any reasonable defense.

The North-South slam prospects faded when South did not get in the first notrump call, so that he could end up at the six-notrump contract which would have been so easy from his position. This might have been achieved if North had answered the opening two-club bid with two hearts, but this was a questionable response, and North preferred the negative notrump response.

The crux of the matter was that South's opening bid was debatable. Many of the arguing experts insisted that South's approach had been correct, but others—with whom this observer agrees—insisted that South should have opened the bidding with four notrump. Had he done so, the auction would have proceeded quite normally, viz., five hearts by North, five notrump by South, six hearts by North, six notrump by South—and there the matter would have rested.

Safe Hiding Place Had Disappeared

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (P) — After vacationing for several days at this resort city, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guillaert checked out of a motel and headed for Mexico City.

A few miles out, they discovered that Guillaert had left his shaving kit behind. They raced back, but the kit was gone.

So was $700 they had hidden in it.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Says Morning Kiss Can Delay Traffic

OMAHA (P) — How much does that goodbye kiss given the wife after she drives her breadwinner to the office contribute to the morning rush hours traffic jams?

Traffic engineers — happily married men who pleaded for anonymity—said: "Goodbye smooches can contribute to morning rush hour traffic jams." While the morning kiss is given, whether it is a peck on the cheek or a clinch, cars behind have to wait, say the engineers. "It doesn't take long and there goes the jam," they explain.

But the goodbye kiss had its defenders, among them Capt. Al Pattavina Sr., traffic enforcement officer, who summed up the case: "We'd much rather have them kissing than standing out in the middle of the street finishing off an argument that began at the breakfast table. Love and kisses are a great institution."

Both sides conceded no large-scale crackdown on kissing is in the offing.

Pollution Cited In Rouge River

LANSING (AP)—Five Detroit area communities have been ordered to show cause why they shouldn't be held in default for failing to end pollution of the upper Rouge River.

The State Water Resources Commission Wednesday ordered officials of Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Bloomfield and Southfield townships and Lathrup Village to appear before its Jan. 20 meeting in Detroit to answer the default charges.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the commission, said the communities use the Birmingham sewage disposal plant which is overloaded, resulting in dumping the excess wastes into the upper Rouge.

Officials of the city of Alma appeared at yesterday's commission meeting to explain a fish kill near the city in early October.

Gordon M. Netzorg, Alma city attorney, said he would prepare an ordinance specifying what types of sewage could be disposed of in the sewer system in order to prevent a similar kill in the future.

The commission also ordered officials of the city of Williamston to appear at its February meeting to show cause why they should not be held in default of commission orders.

Adams said the city failed to build an interceptor sewer to carry sewage from the city to a new disposal plant.

Emil Jyrkila, Rock, Dies At Negaunee

Emil Jyrkila, a resident of Rock for the past 37 years, died at 7 p. m. Wednesday in Twin City Hospital at Negaunee, where he had been a patient for the past six weeks. He was 77 years old.

Born in Finland on Dec. 14, 1876, Mr. Jyrkila lived in Negaunee before he moved to Rock in 1937. Surviving is a son, Leo, of Rock.

Two sisters, Mrs. Arne Harju of Rock and Mrs. Roy Harju of Roseville, Mich., and seven grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed today.

Service From C&O Sought At Manistee

MANISTEE (AP)—Residents here are awaiting word from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad on resumption of regular passenger service to Manistee. This city has been without the service for five years.

A spokesman for the road said Wednesday a date for restoring the service will be decided on at the road's headquarters in Detroit today.

C & O trains now bypass Manistee. The road proposes to use tracks of the Manistee and North-eastern Railroad on a new route which would provide service here by trains running between Grand Rapids and Petoskey.

Sheppard Witness Tells Of Seeing Bushy-Haired Man

CLEVELAND (AP)—The "bushy-haired man" re-entered the Sheppard murder trial today when a defense witness testified he saw a man of that description near the scene on the night of the crime.

The time was between 2:15 and 2:30 a.m. last July 4. The witness, Leo Stawicki, a steelworker, said he was returning from a fishing trip.

"My headlights picked him up in the driveway standing against a tree about 100 to 150 feet away. He was about 10 or 12 feet away as the car passed him," Stawicki said.

Told Police Chief

He had a long face and bushy hair. That hair was standing up on his head and that's what made his face look so long."

"He did not know until almost a week later that the spot where he saw the "bushy-haired man" was the driveway of Dr. Samuel Sheppard, on trial for the murder of his wife, Marilyn.

Sheppard claimed he was struck down by a "bushy-haired" attacker in the bedroom on the night of the murder.

Stawicki related this incident to the chief of police in Bay Village, suburb where Sheppard lives, after he read about the murder in the newspapers several days later, he said.

He said the chief, John Eaton, drove him in an automobile past the spot, but traveling in the opposite direction from which he was traveling on the night he saw the man. He said he picked out the spot again. Eaton, he testified, drove about a mile beyond, turned the car around, and passed the scene a second time. Again, Stawicki testified, he identified the place.

Reward Not Factor

Asst. Defense Counsel Fred Garmon walked across the courtroom and stood behind Dr. Sheppard, the accused man. He asked

Streams Flood Lower Dublin

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Rivers swollen into raging torrents swept into low parts of the Irish capital today, flooded hundreds of houses and disrupted traffic. At least 30 persons were injured, many from floating debris.

The Tolda River, normally a meandering stream, ripped down a bridge of the Main-Dublin-Belfast Railroad and cut all rail traffic from Dublin to the North.

Rescue workers and firemen moved into parts of the city bordering Dublin Bay to bring out persons marooned in flooded homes.

Hundreds were given quick hospital treatment for exposure and exhaustion after a night spent trying to keep out the surging waters.

Boats went into flooded streets late this morning to bring out the many still marooned. More than four feet of water covered roads in the north strand area.

Most homes in North Dublin were without drinking water and gas. Gales disrupted phone services.

In central Ireland the Shannon River spread floodwaters over 30 square miles and was rising hourly. Army units moved into the Athlone area to bring out persons isolated in country homesteads.

Snow And Cold Due In Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — More rain, snow and sleet pelted wide areas from the northern Plains to the Appalachians today and colder weather headed into the Midwest.

One snow belt extended from central Michigan southwestward through sections of Illinois, into northeastern Missouri and northward through central Iowa into Minnesota. Light snow also fell across the northern Plains and extended from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Mississippi River eastward to the Appalachians.

Showers and sleet were reported across the mountains into central Pennsylvania and Virginia. Falls in most places were light with heaviest amounts measuring around two inches.

Christmas Shoppers Buy More Expensive Gifts This Season

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas shoppers are buying more expensive gifts this year. Total spending in the nation's stores in the Thanksgiving to Christmas period is expected to be five per cent heavier than a year ago.

Customers are able and willing to spend, the U. S. Department of Commerce reports after a survey of early shopping records in 33 key cities.

Higher priced lines of merchandise are attracting more interest this year, it notes. But there's also a determined search for value, and shoppers aren't just tossing their money around carelessly.

The good start on their big season is pleasing merchants in 25 of the 33 cities. Until the Christmas buying started, retail sales for the nation had been slightly trailing year ago records. Since December is by far the biggest sales month for most stores, the volume of Christmas business makes all the difference in the profit and loss figures for the year.

Crisp weather has helped bring out the shoppers. By putting the accent on winter clothing, it also has increased store sales volume probably just as much as has the generally better feeling among consumers over the outlook for their jobs and incomes. There's nothing like a feeling of security to make a man more generous at this time of year.

Merchants also report a big assist from the rehiring of workers in many places where layoffs and shutdowns had dragged heavily on the economy earlier in the year. In Detroit, rehiring of workers at the auto plants and at the factories of those who supply the auto industry has perked up the Christmas spirit notably, merchants report.

Chicagoans Planning For Fair In 1976

CHICAGO (AP) — A committee of young industrialists with an eye to the future hopes to bring a world's fair and the Olympic Games to Chicago in 1976.

The group, known as The Committee of '76, was issued incorporation papers Tuesday at Springfield. Some 40 young executives are backing the movement.

Free Convict Traps Himself In Cabinet

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Sam Ramos, 32 - year - old convicted armed robber serving time at the Oklahoma State Penitentiary, bolted himself inside a steel cabinet outside the main prison wall after working hours in the industrial area. Only a chain link fence stood between him and freedom—he thought.

When darkness came he tried to remove the nuts with which he had secured the door on the 36x20-x20-inch cabinet. Ramos is 5 feet 8½.

He was so cramped he couldn't budge to twist the nuts. After 16 hours, he gave up and aroused guards by screaming. He tumbled out like a pretzel.

Cards Saved In Fire

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — When Mrs. Lee Van Valkenburgh fled from her burning house, she managed only to save her son Gary, 4, and 250 Christmas cards she was addressing.

"Of course I saved the cards," she said. "I didn't want to write them all over again."

Chordettes Click With 'Mr. Sandman'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chordettes of radio and television are riding a crest of popularity in another field — phonograph records.

The Chordettes, once a fixture on the Arthur Godfrey programs, are leading most record popularity polls with their "Mr. Sandman." It has sold close to 800,000 copies in 12 weeks and seems to be a good bet for the charmed one million mark.

Another ex-Godfreyite, Archie Bleyer, who left the Godfrey shows in the same blowup that brought Julius LaRosa's exit, figures in the story. Bleyer, married to Janet Ertel of the Chordettes, picked the tune as a likely one for his Cadence records and assigned the girls to do it.

It was the third major hit record for Bleyer's fledgling company. One was LaRosa's "Eh Cumari" that sold more than a million, and Cadence's more recent "Bernando's Hideaway."

Of the present Chordettes, Miss Ertel and Carol Bushman are original members of the quartet organized back in Sheboygan, Wis., as the result of an impromptu songfest. Their big break came when they won on Godfrey's "Talent Scouts," after which they were regulars on his shows for three and a half years.

Since the Godfrey days, Virginia Osborn and Dorothy Schwartz of the original group have dropped out and Lynn Evans and Margie Needham complete the present team.

May Make House Of Huge Glider

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force experimental glider XG-18 is as big as a house. And that's probably what it will wind up as. It weighs 4½ tons, has a 72-foot wing spread and a 39-foot body, comfortably seating 48 fully equipped troops. But the Air Force found only a four-engine plane could haul it into the sky—so it's on the auction block.

Committee Ends Lansing Checkup

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's "Little Hoover" committee wound up its work Wednesday, but agreed to recommend establishment of a standing committee of the Legislature to act as a watchdog on state government.

Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said the group's final report would ask the 1955 Legislature to form a joint committee to carry on the committee's work.

"We can't judge the effectiveness of the group by the legislation that has been passed," Andrews said.

"We recommended the changes that were needed but now it's up to others to put them in effect."

The committee, officially known as the Joint Legislative Committee on State Government Reorganization, drew up some 30 reports and many more recommendations on administrative changes during its five-year existence.

'Silver Bells' Is Chosen As Holiday Theme

"Silver Bells" is the theme of the 1955 annual Holiday Ball, which is being held Dec. 28 at the Knights of Columbus Hall from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Music for the evening will be furnished by Al Adams and His Swing Kings.

General chairman of the affair, which is sponsored by the high school students of Holy Name and Escanaba, is Bob Zitner. He is being assisted by the following chairmen: Cynthia Sogard, decorations; Donna Dubord, programs; Lois Hendrickson, treasurer; Jean LeBranche, music; Jim Weber, punch; John Woodruff, tickets, and Mary Ellen McMeehan, publicity.

The following rules pertain to anyone attending the ball:

1. Any persons at the ball may not leave.
2. No person having had any intoxicating beverages may enter.
3. Corsages are permitted.

Class Of 1945 Is Planning A 10 Year Reunion

A general meeting for the purpose of arranging a 10 year class reunion of the 1945 class of Escanaba Senior High School will be held Wednesday, Dec. 29, at 7 p. m. at Manning's Shoe Store.

All members of this class, who are able to attend, are asked to be at the meeting. Plans will be made for a reunion in 1955. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of a member of the 1945 class are asked to contact them about the meeting.

Today's Recipes

A recipe for mincemeat has been received by the Daily Press recipe department from Mary R. Buckley of 230 N. 5th St., Manistique. It is as follows:

Mincemeat
2 lbs. cooked venison, chopped in food grinder
4 lbs. chopped apples
2 lbs. raisins
4 cups, either brown or white sugar
3/4 lb. chopped suet or butter
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
Add cider to cover mixture. If cider is not available, use fruit juices or water with 1/2 cup vinegar. Sweet fruit juices reduce the amount of sugar required. Cook very slowly until the fruits are tender (about one hour). The mincemeat will keep indefinitely if put in fruit jars.

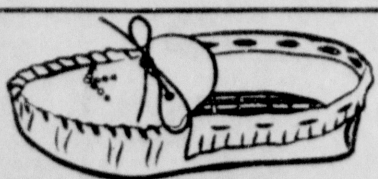

Evening Circle Will Present Program

Several instrumental numbers will be featured this evening during the presentation of the play "Come Anytime" by the Evening Circle of the W.S.C.S. of the Central Methodist Church. The play will begin at 8 p. m.

A medley of Christmas songs will be played by Roger Swanson and Robert Anderson with the accompaniment of George King, piano. Claus Kroeger will present a song which he composed, on the cello. His mother, Mrs. Rudolph Kroeger, will accompany him.

Your Baby

Heat rash is common in summer, though Baby may develop it in winter, too. It's almost certain to make him restless and irritable, but it can be relieved with a light powdering of baby powder, baking soda or corn starch. But don't overdo with the powder; just use so much that it collects in the folds of flesh. Dress Baby in light clothing and sponge him off frequently. Change his position as often as you can; the air will help prevent rash.

Lamb On Mint Is A Delightful Christmas Roast

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Yesterday at lunch with Ted Saucier we discussed something different for Christmas dinner. Lamb on fresh mint was his suggestion.

Ted Saucier, author of "Bottoms Up," a handsomely made book of 800 recipes for punches and mixed drinks, gourmet and fabulous publicist, gave us his method.

First, get lots of fresh mint. Many grocers carry it year round.

Select a large leg of lamb. Salt it and sprinkle with freshly ground black pepper. Place in large roasting pan. Next pour exactly 2 tablespoons of white vinegar over the lamb. Roast in preheated oven at 350 degrees F.

Onion Liquid

Drain liquid from can of small white onions. If fresh onions are used, parboil them and save the water. As the juices in pan dry, pour more onion water over lamb. Roast for about 3 hours, adding more onion water to prevent burning in pan.

Three quarters of an hour before roast will be done, place the little white onions in pan. They will roast to a lovely golden brown and become unbelievably flavorful. You might add small white potatoes, too, to roast in the pan juices.

Cover large platter with bed of fresh mint. What a fragrance! Place roast lamb on top and surround with the onions and roasted potatoes.

Place roasting pan with lamb drippings over high heat on top of stove. Pour 2 glasses water into pan and scrape drippings from bottom. Bring to boil for a minute. Serve in hot gravy boat or bowl.

Tart currant jelly and baby canned peas go with this dinner and a real French salad consisting of tender Boston lettuce, endive, sourgrass if available, and a dressing made of olive oil and wine vinegar.

We were in the Men's Grill at the Waldorf Astoria in New York. Ted had a large bowl filled with fresh salad greens, shrimp, crab hunks, and pieces of lobster with a light French dressing. We had chicken livers and bacon broiled on a skewer and served on a bed of spinach.

RURAL TEACHERS CLUB — The regular meeting of the Schoolcraft County Rural Teachers' Club was held at the home of Mrs. Bada Hough with a Christmas gift collection for children featuring the gathering.

More than a bushel of gaily wrapped toys brought to the meeting will be sent to Holy Family Orphanage at Marquette.

Following the business meeting an old fashioned Christmas program was given. Each person took a child's part and there were many original recitations and songs. The highlight of the entertainment was the appearance of Josephine Schnurer who was Santa Claus. At the close of the program Ruth England and Mary Esterger sang Christmas carols.

A buffet lunch was served from a table decorated in the Christmas motif. Mrs. Hough and Hiawatha teachers were hostesses.

Musical Program Is Feature At Wells PTA Meeting

WELLS—The Accordionaires, a group of 10 girls, who are under the direction of Manley Anderson, presented a musical program Tuesday evening for members of the Wells Central PTA.

Selections played by the group were "Serenade," "Ranger's March," "Maria" (tango), "Black Hawk Waltz" and a medley of Christmas carols. "Home Sweet Home" was sung by Alice Gonsowski. Members of the Accordionaires are Kathy DeShambo, Karen Wickstrom, Sharon Wolfgram, Bonnie Anderson, Diane Oja, Lois Cooper, Eleanor Trotter, Carol Bracke, Sharon Collins and Nancy Byersdorf.

A business meeting was followed by a social hour with Mrs. Lloyd Lee as chairman of the lunch committee. Assisting her were Mrs. Michael Zavada, Mrs. Earl Williams and Mrs. Vern Sturdivant.

Plan Choral Concert Here

Vocal music students in Manistique High School will present a Christmas concert Thursday, Dec. 16 at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium. There will be no charge.

The mixed chorus is scheduled to sing three Polish carols arranged by Kozinski and other Yuletide music; the Junior High Glee club will sing "The Seven Joys of Mary" and "When the Crimson Sun". The Senior High Glee Club's numbers will include "In the Still of the Night" and "The Birthday of a King."

Francis E. Barnard, vocal music director, is in charge of the program. Soloists will be Robert Johnson and Gail LeBrasseur. Accompanist for the singers will be Dorothy Giovannini.

Also to be heard will be an octet singing Scott's "Christmas-tide," and a reading of St. Matthew's account of the Nativity by Katherine Hall.

A similar program will be presented Friday afternoon, Dec. 17, for High School students, just before school is dismissed for the holiday vacation period.

Youth's Hearing Set For Friday

A hearing for a 16-year-old Manistique boy, apprehended here for entering a house on the River road and taking $50, has been scheduled in juvenile court at 10 a. m., Friday before Probate Judge John S. Faketty.

A preliminary hearing was held Wednesday afternoon, with the youth, his mother and an older brother present.

The boy, who was held in jail here since Monday, was released into the custody of his mother until the hearing. The court reports he has no previous official record, but has appeared twice because he did not attend school. He was one of two runaway boys returned here from Alpena, two weeks ago.

Police have recovered more than half of the money taken by him from the Ward Richmire house last Sunday.

Anglemier Waives Examination Here In Justice Court

John R. Anglemier, 21, of Rte. 4, Pontiac, who is charged here with felonious assault, waived examination in Justice court Wednesday and was bound over to the January term of circuit court.

Anglemier, a Coast Guard boatswain's mate stationed at Sault Ste. Marie, was arrested by city police Oct. 8 after he struck a 17-year-old girl, Barbara Russell, Weston Ave., several times with a lug wrench. She suffered a fractured skull and was in the hospital several days here.

The man was scheduled to appear Oct. 18 and Nov. 1 for preliminary examination in Justice court, but postponements were granted to permit medical examination of the accused. Since his arrest, he has been held in jail here. Bond was set at $5,000 and was not furnished.

MHS Grand Piano Is Reconditioned

Manistique High School's grand piano was returned here Wednesday from Menominee, where it was reconditioned.

The board of education here authorized repair of the instrument last June. A new keyboard has been installed, the interior repaired, and the outer finish restored.

The work was done by Clifford DeGaynor of Menominee.

THE EVASIVE GLOG

Is happy go lucky—as long as luck is with him

The GLOG is an advertiser who refuses to be moored to the orlog world of facts and figures.

He may spend a million on advertising. But if you ask him why, he talks about golf.

If you ask him what he expects to get out of his ads, he raves about some oomph-girl who has caught the public eye.

You can't pin him down—because he honestly doesn't expect much from advertising.

Fortunately the GLOG is a rare creature.

Wise advertisers expect plenty from their advertising dollar. And they prefer to keep luck out of the picture.

So they don't try to cover the nation with a flimsy catch-all schedule. They pick their best markets—then really cover them.

Naturally they use newspapers. Because newspapers are basic—the foundation of any intelligent ad schedule.

Because only the newspaper reaches just about everybody in every community. Because only the newspaper carries the sense of urgency—"If it's advertised today, I'd better go down and get it quick."

No wonder advertisers invested twice as much money in newspapers last year as in any other medium!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

Tight Shirt Cause Of Fainting Spell

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Car Salesman James A. Flake showed up at a doctor's office after suffering a series of "blackouts," including 12 in one day. He figured he had heart trouble.

A complete physical showed nothing amiss. The heart specialist took another look, and ordered Flake to loosen his shirt collar.

Flake now is wearing a larger-sized shirt, and hasn't had any more fainting spells.

CARE Christmas Tree Program Is Launched By PTA

The Care Christmas tree program was launched Tuesday evening by the Buckeye PTA at their regular monthly meeting. The children of the Buckeye school will bring pennies, nickels or dimes wrapped in colored paper to hang on the tree. These funds will go to the National Congress of the PTA to purchase books for children of Foreign Lands.

The usual Christmas treats will be given the children this year and Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute it.

The committee in charge of this event is composed of the Mmes.

Boyd Swanson, Gene VerHamme and Oliver Gabrielson.

Mrs. Lorraine Murphy's room won the room count for the third consecutive month.

The male members of the PTA are building a stage which will be ready for the Christmas program.

A movie, entitled, "The Manu- facturing of Tin" was shown to the group.

Lunch was served at the con- clusion of the evening.

All Area Cage Teams Ready For Full Weekend Schedule

Two Escanaba Quints Will Take Road Trips

The larger school basketball teams of the area will offer a full schedule of weekend games for cage fans with Manistique, Gladstone, Holy Name and Escanaba High playing Friday and Saturday nights.

Manistique will see action both nights, travelling to Gladstone Friday and entertaining Holy Name Saturday. The Escanaba Eskymos will be at Iron Mountain Friday night.

For his Friday night game at Iron Mountain, Eskymo coach Jim Bettschek will probably stay with the starting lineup that produced a 54-53 victory over the Marquette Redmen last weekend.

Eskymo Starters
Junior center Lawrence Sauve and junior forwards Tom Hogan and Bill Bolm have received starting nods. The guards will be selected from among seniors John Dulek, Mike Heminger and Jim Beck.

Eskymos who have seen reserve action and will likely be called on at Iron Mountain are Ricky Erickson, Bob Bero, Ted Anspaugh and Jack Carlson.

The Bee team game at Iron Mountain will start at 7:45 (Escanaba time) and the varsity game at 9:15. Iron Mountain school officials have set aside 40 reserved seat tickets which will be available to Eskymo fans at the Iron Mountain High School lobby before the game.

The Mountaineers, with all veterans back from last year, have turned in a pair of convincing wins in their two games against Ishpeming and Niagara this season.

Veteran Mountaineers
Mountaineers starters will be Glen Edlund and Ray Schindler at forwards, Dick St. Arnold at center, Ron Steiner and Joe Santini at guards. Cliff Andreoli alternates at a guard spot.

All the Mountaineers were members of Joe Poisson's team that was beaten in the Upper Peninsula Class B championship game by Munising last year. Poisson was named Coach of the Year after last basketball season.

Iron Mountain's forward line is six-foot tall or better, and the guards are medium height. The Mountaineers play a running game with accent on speed and passing.

Manistique Regulars

Manistique coach Rudie Brandstrom also plans to stick with his regular starting lineup against the Gladstone Braves Friday night. The Emeralds, who were edged 59-57 by Sault Ste. Marie last week, will have Bob Corson, Bob Hastings, Ken Dixon, Bill Holm and Ed Bernier in the lineup for the opening tipoff.

The game at Gladstone will begin at 8:30 with reserves meeting in a preliminary at 7.

Coach Cappy Keil's Braves will be shooting for their second victory in as many starts. Last week they notched a convincing victory over Holy Name.

Keil will rely on the rangy crew which he started against (Bee teams at 7) a revised lineup will likely open action.

John Vadenais has been operating with efficiency at a guard post, increasing the Crusaders' team height considerably. Vadenais is a six-footer as are forwards Arnold Henriksen and Mike Venne and center John Berrigan. The other starting guard will be Jim Greenwood, 5-8.

Likely reserves will be Bill Lancour, regular guard up to this game, Gary Paler, Jim Weber and Denis McGinn.

The Crusaders toppled Escanaba and Marinette Lourdes before losing to the Gladstone Braves last weekend.

Cardinals Trade For Reliever Frank Smith

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals, who gambled and won on Wally Moon, bolstered a sagging bullpen staff but took another look at the wheel of fortune today in the person of untried third baseman Ken Boyer.

The gamble developed when the Cards, sorely in need of relief pitchers for two years, parted with regular third baseman Ray Jablonski and starting pitcher Gerry Staley Wednesday to get reliever Frank Smith from the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Boyer, who came to the Cards from the Texas League, is the No. 1 prospect for Jablonski's third base vacancy.

Needed Bullpen
Dick Meyer, Cards general manager, admitted the club gave up "a lot" to get Smith but said he and Manager Eddie Stanky felt "we couldn't make much progress without an adequate bullpen."

Cincinnati plans to use Jablonski, the first Cardinal rookie to drive in more than 100 runs, as their regular third baseman to replace Bobby Adams, Jabbo, 28, who belted home 112 runs his freshman year in 1953, hit .296 last season and drove in 104 runs but has been regarded by some as a defensive liability.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati's general manager, also believes Staley (7-13) will regain his form in new surroundings. The 31-year-old Staley had an 18-9 record in '53. Birdie Tebbetts, Redleg manager, figures Jablonski will give his club balance on the right side of the plate with Jim Greengrass and Wally Pote to go with left-handed sluggers Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Bailey.

Moon Top Rookie
Moon, who played with Rochester in 1953, turned up at the Birds' spring training camp before the start of last season, and moved into a regular outfield job when warhorse Enos Slaughter was sent to the New York Yankees. Moon batted .307 and was named National League Rookie of the Year by the Sporting News.

The 23-year-old Boyer was a standout with Houston in the Texas League. Although he is the No. 1 prospect for Jabbo's job, the Cards also still have Solly Hemus, utility infielder, who earlier had been rumored to be a key player in the deal.

An unnamed minor league player also will go to Cincinnati in the straight-player deal later.

Four College Cage Names Still Unbeaten

The Associated Press
La Salle, Oklahoma A&M, Notre Dame, Louisville — names well known in college basketball circles—continued on the victory trail today.

All four scored impressive victories Wednesday night in the young 1954-55 campaign.

La Salle, winner of the NCAA championship last spring and voted the No. 1 team in the Associated Press preseason poll this fall, chalked up its third straight victory by overwhelming Penn Millary 94-39. All America Tom Gola scored 18 points in the 25 minutes he played.

Also making it three in a row was Oklahoma A&M, No. 11 in the preseason calculations. The Aggies, who defeated Texas 70-63 Saturday, did it again Wednesday night 77-49.

Notre Dame made it 22 consecutive home floor victories by beating Northwestern 79-69, and Louisville broke its own scoring record with a 113-64 triumph over Mississippi State.

Undefeated Connecticut made it 3-0 by drubbing Yale 83-57. Virginia marred Navy's home debut by defeating the Midgies 79-69. Carnegie Tech upset Pitt 79-67, the third straight upset for the Panthers.

Arkansas went overtime to defeat Oklahoma City 81-76, while Tulsa defeated Texas A&M 57-45, to make its record 3-0.

Purdue defeated Valparaiso 62-50. West Texas State overcame Hamline 67-64, and Marquette made it 3-0 by taking St. Norbert of Wisconsin 83-47.

Campbell Aims At Speed Mark

LONDON (AP) — Donald Malcolm Campbell leaves London today for Ullswater and Lake Windermere with his newest Bluebird, an all-metal craft he believes will travel faster than 200 miles an hour and return the world speedboat record to Britain.

The son of the late great land and water king, Sir Malcolm Campbell, said if all goes well he will slide Bluebird into the water for the first time Friday and switch on the turbojet power plant for preliminary tests.

"I will make no attempt tomorrow to break Stanley Sayres' world record, but I certainly hope for a good fast opening test run," said the 33-year-old Campbell.

Sayre of Seattle, Wash., broke the 141.74 MPH record set by Campbell's father in England in 1939 with a 160 MPH clocking over Lake Washington in 1950. Sayres' Sio-Mo-Shun IV boosted the record by 18 MPH on Lake Washington July 7, 1952.

Hawks Find Practice Ice On Farmer Benoit's Pond

Where there's a will there's a way and the Escanaba Hawks of the Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League have the will.

Unable to practice here or at Marquette because of lack of ice, the Hawks were forced to move indoors to the Bonifas gymnasium floor for conditioning sessions as they prepared for their opening exhibition game at Michigan Tech's Dee Stadium on Saturday night.

But the situation was changed this week when the Hawks uncovered a natural-ice outdoor pond located on the farm land of Stanley Benoit, near Riverland, about seven miles from Escanaba.

Two Overtimes Needed For Western's Victory
MT. PLEASANT (AP) — It took them two overtime periods to do it, but Western Michigan's Broncos squeezed past Central Michigan for a 95-91 basketball victory Wednesday night.

The score was tied 23 times during the tight game. One of these was a 34-34 deadlock at halftime. Another was 73-73 at the end of regulation play.

In the second overtime, guard Cuyler Miller of Western tossed in two buckets in a row and center Fred Corbus made good on a free throw to turn the tide.

Forward Dick Kameister of Central led both teams with 34 points. Corbus led Western with 27.

Wolverine Cage Stars Don't Look The Part

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A pigeon-toed sophomore guard, a forward with a bad leg and a center with a short arm helped Michigan's basketball team to victory.

"We got off to a pretty good start," coach Bill Perigo says. His Wolverines set a new Michigan scoring record by beating Pittsburgh 101-71 last Saturday.

Three Michigan players are fighting more than the opposing team. They are Captain Paul Grofsky, a center; Tom Jorgensen, a guard, and 5-foot-11, 160-pound sophomore Jimmy Shearon.

Has Confidence

"Shearon doesn't look like much physically. He's pigeon-toed. It looks like he might even have some trouble walking. But I've never seen a sophomore with so much confidence," Perigo says.

Of course, Perigo's pride in Jorgensen and Grofsky goes without saying. Grofsky has an arm three inches shorter than his other. He still scored 12 points against Pitt. Jorgensen's trouble started in high school. He had his appendix out, and then came down with pneumonia. Then a blood clot started in his leg. The veins were permanently damaged. If he spends too much time on his feet, his leg swells.

"Pepper-Upper"

Most of the sophomore help, Perigo feels, will come from Shearon. The Toledo youngster "was a pepper-upper" in scoring his 17 points, 15 of them in the last half.

Vic Heyliger's supposedly weak and ineffective hockey team, past the peak of the last seven years, still was able to smash powerful McGill University two straight last weekend.

Heyliger will have to face another Canadian team this weekend in the University of Montreal. Two sophomores have helped give Heyliger's hopes a life-lifting. They are wing Tom Rendell and effective goalie Lorne Howes.

Big Ten Offers Change In One-Platoon Rules

DETROIT (AP) — After proposing to amend the still-controversial substitution rule, the Big Ten is expected to take a definite stand on regional football television today.

The Big Ten favors regional televising of football games, as opposed to the NCAA "Game of the Week" program.

Conference coaches Wednesday unanimously agreed upon a proposal to alter the present "one-platoon" substitution rule. Ray Eloit of Illinois, chairman of the coaches committee, said the Big Ten proposal "emphatically does not in any way lend itself to the old two-platoon system."

The coaches' proposal would allow any player who starts a quarter to re-enter that quarter on one occasion. Under the present rule, a player may only return during the final four minutes of the second and fourth periods. This proposal will be forwarded to the coaches meeting at the NCAA convention next month in New York.

Televising of Big Ten basketball games this season also was a main

Hawks Face Tough Opener In Michigan Tech Huskies

Escanaba's Hawks have a very tough assignment in their opening game of the 1954-55 hockey season—an exhibition clash with the Michigan Tech Huskies on artificial ice at Dee Stadium, Houghton, this Saturday night.

Coach Allan Renfrew's Huskies have been practicing daily for more than a month. They are a young, aggressive and ambitious group and already have lots of skating and conditioning behind them in this young season.

In contrast to this, Escanaba has been without either artificial or natural ice and with the unfortunate burning of the Marquette Palestra, the Hawks have been unable to practice there.

Practice On Pond

All of this means that the Hawks have had to resort to exercise in the William Bonifas gymnasium and a couple of late sallies for only a few players on a farmer's pond 10 miles northwest of Escanaba. Despite these hardships, the Hawks will be out to give a good account of themselves in Houghton Saturday.

Tech's team is composed of seven newcomers and eight veterans chosen from 35 to 40 candidates. Co-captain Bob McManus will be in the nets, with Co-captain Wally Crockett and Bob Beaupre at defense. The first line has Cliff Wylie at center and Ron Stenlund and Jack McManus at the wings.

The Hawks will be bolstered by the addition of four Canadian Soo players, by Guy Poce and Lee Haugen, both of Virginia,

Minn., and by Mike Otis, who has moved here from Duluth, Minn., but lack of practice individually and as a unit will hurt.

Here Are Possibilities

Off the cuff: Are you wondering how the Hawks won the championship last year with lack of depth? . . . The answer rests in the kind of spirit that sent them searching in the country for a farmer's pond on which to practice . . . They worked out there Tuesday and Wednesday and hit it again today.

Prior to finding this pond, the Hawks were considering a workout on the boarded-up outdoor rink in the Marquette yard . . . It is still possible they might use the Palestra Tuesday night, Dec. 14, in preparation for their opener at Marquette Thursday, Dec. 16.

Don't let that list of players above fool you . . . It's lack of practice that hurts . . . If Escanaba had an ice ring, Escanaba could be in fine shape now for defense of its U. P. championship . . . Incidentally, Ben Artwith has the Gibson Cup in Stambaugh now . . . It's being displayed in the Stambaugh-Iron River area . . . Ted Olson's address in Bay City is 3817 Kawkawlin River Drive . . . You can write Len Webster at 836 Park St., Kenora, Ont. . . Webster is considering moving to Escanaba.

Landy Indicates He May Be All Through

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, whose 3:58 this year is the world's fastest clocking for a mile, indicated today he may be through with competitive track. He is now 24. "I do not have that old edge anymore," he said after running next to last in a two-mile run at Geelong won in 8:55.2. Landy trailed winner Les Perry by 70 yards.

"With my teaching job I am not able to train properly any more," Landy said.

Big Ten Stars Dot North Grid Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — A North squad headed by Wisconsin's bruising ball carrier, Alan (The Horse) Ameche, and three members of the national champion Ohio State team was named today for the sixth annual Senior Bowl game at Mobile Jan. 8.

Also prominent on the Yankee team of seniors was Bob McNamara of Minnesota, fleet halfback who led his team to a 7-2 record in the tough Big Ten the past season.

Ameche, who set a NCAA rushing record during his four years at Wisconsin, Wednesday was named to The Associated Press All-America team. McNamara is a second team member.

Three Buckeyes

Eight Big Ten schools are among the 21 who will send players to the sixth annual classic which will mark their professional debut.

Rose Bowl-bound Dave Leggett will have quarterback Dave Leggett, center Bob Thornton and end Dean Dugger.

Other backs will be Primo Vil-laneuve of undefeated UCLA, Lin-don Crow of Southern California's Rose Bowl team, Florian Hilinski of Indiana, Corky Taylor of Kansas State, Ron Drzewiecki of Marquette, Max Burkett of Iowa State, and Dick Young of Chattanooga.

Most of the 24 members of coach Paul Brown's squad have been named to their all-conference teams, and 14 received honorable mention on The Associated Press team.

North Squad
The North includes: Jim Garrity, Penn State; Dick Gaskell, George Washington, and Andy Nacrelli, Fordham.

Tackles — Dick Chonick, Miami (Ohio); Don Glantz, Nebraska; Frank Morris, Boston College, and Joe Ray, UCLA.

Guards — Norm Amundsen, Wisconsin; Tom Bettis, Purdue; Henry Bullough, Michigan State, and Jan Smid, Illinois.

Centers — John Damore, Northwestern, and Bob Thornton, Ohio State.

Former Heavyweight Charges Jim Norris With Fixing Fights

NEW YORK (AP) — Charges of a former heavyweight boxer that Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, had fixed fights some years ago were denied today by Norris as "untrue, libelous and absurd."

Harry Thomas, a former boxer, wrote in an article appearing in the magazine Sports Illustrated that Norris "has been a fixer of prize fights."

Now a Chicago stationary engineer, Thomas said Norris fixed his bout with Max Schmeling at Madison Square Garden Dec. 13, 1937, and the Thomas-Tony Galento fight in Philadelphia Nov. 14, 1938.

Norris Denies It

"The charge that I participated in fixed fights that took place 17 years ago is untrue, libelous and absurd," said Norris in a statement.

"It is a cheap device on the part of the magazine seeking desperately to build circulation at the expense of boxing."

Norris said Thomas refused to testify at a hearing before the New York State Athletic Commission Nov. 21, 1939 and added:

"Now the ridiculous story is revived at a time when most of the people mentioned in the article are

Only One Out Of Five Voted In Tuesday's Charter Election

WITH approximately 8,000 registered voters in the City of Escanaba, only 1605 voted in Tuesday's special election in which a proposal for revising the city charter was rejected by a 2-1 majority.

The proposed charter revision was killed decisively enough but we do not believe that it was because a majority of local citizens opposed the new charter. I was snowed under because those who were opposed put on an active, aggressive campaign to bring out the negative vote. No similar campaign was developed by those who were in favor of the revised charter.

A lot of people who were in favor of the new charter did not bother to vote, apparently because they felt that a favorable result was assured.

The defeat of the charter proposal is most discouraging to the nine members of the charter revision committee who de-

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Christmas—as every parent is already well aware—is close upon us. But it is certainly not yet too late to give some thought to the selection of presents which will both amuse and enlighten your youngsters. So today and tomorrow we shall take an admittedly cursory look at some of the books and games specially suitable for word-conscious families.

For the very young child of pre-school or kindergarten age it would be hard to find a more colorful and attractive book than MY FIRST DICTIONARY by Laura Otfedahl and Nina Jacob of the University of Chicago Laboratory School. Each page contains four or five pictures in full color of objects and people familiar to every child, together with the word and a simple sentence illustrating its use. Altogether, MY FIRST DICTIONARY contains more than 600 words from the basic vocabulary of children of this age level and should provide many hours of enlightening entertainment for any child. The new GOLDEN BOOK OF WORDS is another charming book admirably suited to the needs and interests of the very young.

Teen-agers and many adults will find THE FIRST BOOK OF WORDS by Samuel and Beryl Epstein, a briskly and entertainingly written story of how our language came into being. Like the other titles in this remarkably successful FIRST BOOK series, published by Franklin Watts, Inc., THE FIRST BOOK OF WORDS presents an authoritative and interesting introduction to its subject. It's my guess that most young readers will find it only the first step toward that most fascinating and rewarding of hobbies—the exploration of the wonderful world of words.

Each of these books, by the way, costs less than $2 and each is a remarkably fine example of bookmaking at low cost which the recent development of high-speed color printing presses has made possible and from which you, the consumer, benefit.

An ideal stocking-stuffer for teen-agers, by the way, is THE REAL GONE LEXICON, our newly published glossary of teen-talk. For your free copy, simply send a self-addressed stamped envelope to William Morris, in care of this paper, and we'll see to it that your copy reaches you before Christmas.

There Is No Good, Safe Way To Raise the Blood Pressure

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Readers of this column are constantly asking for a discussion of low blood pressure. But it hardly seems wise to answer these questions as often as readers want since ordinarily what they consider low blood pressure is a matter of little concern from the health standpoint.

One paper on this subject which I have clipped is headed "Low Blood Pressure: Fortune or Affliction?" This paper, together with every other source of information on the subject of which I am aware points out that low blood pressure alone, unless associated with symptoms or definitely tied to some physical abnormality—and this is the exception—is likely to be accompanied with long life and compatible with radiant health.

THERE ARE ONLY a few exceptions. One condition known as Addison's disease is characterized among other symptoms by a low blood pressure. This is a rare disease. There is another condition in which low blood pressure comes periodically known as carotid sinus syndrome. Sudden pressure on the neck or sudden motion of the head may bring on an attack of low blood pressure together with other symptoms but this is not the type of low blood pressure in which most correspondents are interested.

"Don't be foolish, my boy," counseled the father, "You seem to forget that imitation is the sincerest form of philately."

Occasionally, a person will have a fall in blood pressure when moving from a lying or sitting position to a standing one, and this may require some attention. This goes under the tongue-twisting name of orthostatic hypotension.

IT IS HARD to say whether there are or are not any symptoms which can be laid at the door of low blood pressure and nothing else. Some people who have low blood pressure also complain of lack of pep or some other vague symptom but this is just as likely to arise in the mind as it is from the blood pressure.

Even if the blood pressure should have something to do with complaints of this sort there is not much which can be done about it. There is no good, safe, way to raise the blood pressure and it is better left alone unless some condition is present which should be treated on its own account.

Low blood pressure causes a great deal of unnecessary worry. With only a few exceptions the person with below normal pressure can feel lucky and need not do anything about it if other signs of disease are not present.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMAN

Last week the President had to address two separate audiences on the subject of the eleven American prisoners of war in Red Chinese hands. He had first of all to speak to the diverse audience abroad—to our adversaries in Moscow and Peking, to our allies in London, Paris, Ottawa and in the rest of NATO, to the uncommitted governments in New Delhi and in large areas of Asia and of Africa. Here he was preparing to use the resources of a world-wide diplomacy to obtain the release of the prisoners. But at the same time he had to turn around and explain to the American public why he would not do what Sen. Knowland was publicly advising him to do. The Senator's advice was to blockade China and to break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. Lest the whole free world think that Sen. Knowland was talking for the United States government, the President had to make an elaborate reply to Sen. Knowland.

Both of the President's conversations were, of course, heard all over the world. But the one that made the loudest noise was the President's reply to Mr. Knowland. As the result, what came out of Washington was a proclamation to the world—including Peking and Moscow—not of what we do mean to do by diplomacy, but of what we do not mean to do by ultimatum and guns. The net effect was to neutralize what the President was saying to Peking and to the other capitals. In order to explain to the American public why he was not going to go along with the Senator and off the deep end into war, the President had to come very near to giving the other side an assurance that the United States would not act at all but would only talk.

FLAGRANT DISSERVICE

All of this was a flagrant disservice to the American cause. In compelling the President to reject publicly a specific proposal for action, Sen. Knowland caused the President to give the embarrassing impression that he did not intend to act at all. This impaired seriously the diplomatic bargaining position of the United States. Before the President had gotten any response from the other side and from our allies he was driven into the position where he had to say precisely what he would not do.

This can only have encouraged the adventures in Peking who mean to take the biggest calculated risks. It can only have made the uncommitted nations believe that the United States is torn within itself by a struggle with a war party. It will only have confirmed the feeling, which is already prevalent among our allies, that Washington is so divided that it cannot be depended upon to follow an even course of action.

Mr. Knowland's attempt to drive from the back seat was an indefensible invasion of the President's constitutional power to conduct foreign affairs. For if the President is to conduct them, he must have the sole right to speak for the United States government. And that right is bound to mean that he must be the sole and final judge of when to say what the government will do and of when to say what the government will not do. He must not be pushed and jostled into making declarations of government policy just because a Senator prefers to talk publicly rather than to confer and argue privately.

PUBLIC DILEMMA

Coming from the leader of the Administration party in the Senate, Mr. Knowland's call for a blockade, which is an act of war, was not the mere expression of one more personal opinion in the general free expression of opinions in our democratic society. Because of Sen. Knowland's official position, the President was put immediately into a public dilemma. In any ordinary government Sen. Knowland would be the spokesman of the Administration. Yet in this grave matter of life and death the Senator was not speaking for, he was speaking against, the Administration. Having to disagree with Sen. Knowland publicly, the President had to weaken his own position in dealing with Peking and Moscow. He had to show more of his hand than it was necessary or desirable to show.

Sen. Knowland is apparently under the impression that there is a choice before us between action and inaction, between an ultimatum backed by acts of war and mere futile paper protests. This is, I submit, a misunderstanding of the real situation. As of this moment, the United States government does not have the power to decide for itself to impose a blockade of China. The maritime rights of a great many nations—allied, neutral, and adverse—would at once be involved in such a blockade. It is inconceivable that all these nations would acquiesce in a unilateral American decision to intercept their ships. Thus, if we took Sen. Knowland's advice and issued the ultimatum to China, we would be committing ourselves to use American naval force against the ships of perhaps twenty nations. Can anyone in his right mind think that the Chinese would then release the prisoners? By holding on to them they would have, in addition to the prisoners, the delightful prospect of the United States embroiled with all of its allies.

Revolution's Romance Fades In Egypt; Reds Prove Menace

By LEON DENNEN

CAIRO, Egypt—NEA—Red subversion, like the all-devouring Biblical plague, continues to haunt the strife torn Arab world.

While the Kremlin rulers preach "coexistence" in the West they feverishly prepare for new Korean-style explosions in the Middle East.

The ruling military junta in Egypt—more than two years after the overthrow of King Farouk—is literally fighting for its life against an unholy alliance of Communists and the fanatical Moslem Brotherhood.

"Communism, widespread corruption and semi-starvation are the chief threat to the uneasy stability in the Middle East," Major Salim Salem, Egypt's Minister of National Guidance, told NEA Service.

"The urgent need in Egypt, as everywhere in the Moslem countries, is a higher living standard—a speed-up in social and economic development," he said.

Major Salem, at 34, is a dynamic little man, prematurely bald and with glowing fanatical eyes set deep in their sockets. He is widely regarded as one of the strong men in the Revolutionary Council that seized power in Egypt in 1952.

The other "strong man" is Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, Egypt's Premier, who—at the age of 37—is one of the "older" men among the country's present rulers.

For close to 10 years, Salah Salem and his group of young, idealistic army officers plotted secretly the overthrow of King Farouk. Now that he is in power—ruling from the plush chambers of the ex-King's palace—he finds it difficult to square the romance of revolution with the grim facts of life. Like an acrobat who has lost his balance, the young Major and his military junta remain dangerously suspended over a political knife-edge.

"Egypt must fight the twin evils of communism and hunger," Salah Salem emphasized again at the close of our interview.

Just as communism used nationalist sentiment in Indo-China to gain victory there, the Soviet rulers are taking advantage of the strong nationalism that exists in the Arab countries.

Their easiest political tool is a hate campaign against the foreigner, especially Israel. Egypt's misfortune is ascribed to the sinister "Anglo-American and Zionist imperialists" and their "native stooges"—the pro-Western "traitors."

"Alla wa Akbar," cry the hungry and frenzied Arabs in the streets and Oriental market places. "God is great and give us the word to fight the foreigner." The aggressive power of the mob still rules the capital cities of the Middle East.

For the present, it seems, Premier Nasser, Salah Salem and their military junta have the upper hand in Egypt. They are strongly anti-Communist and their platform for Egypt's rebirth is as simple as it is profound.

They say: the living standards of the workers and rural fellows cannot be raised without the development of Egypt's capital resources.

The revolutionary military junta—led alone by the other Arab states and the corrupt leaders of the Moslem League—would probably conclude peace with Israel—so as to take advantage of Israel's industrial "know-how."

Since the revolt against Farouk there has been a marked decline in hostility towards Israel in Egypt. Competent observers discounted the idea that the Arab refugees who left Palestine during Israeli-Arab conflict are a serious obstacle to friendly relations between Israel and Egypt.

The close to 900,000 refugees, to be sure, remain an explosive element in the Middle East. Under the care of UN's Works and Relief Agency, the majority of them live under much better conditions than the average employed Egyptian worker or peasant. But they remain a haunting and challenging human problem for the free world.

A prominent Western diplomat, one of the wisest in the Middle East, said: "With some good will on both sides the tragic refugee question could have been settled long ago."

However, the diplomat added: "Some Arab politicians prefer to keep the whole question in the air. They can always use the refugees to blackmail the United States."

Nixon Gets In Another Controversy With Alger

WASHINGTON—NEA—When Vice President Richard M. Nixon's controversial cocker spaniel, "Checkers," produced a surprising litter of puppies last year, there was considerable speculation among the Nixon's Spring Valley neighbors as to whom the father might be.

The head of one particular dog-owning family, it now develops, has had an uneasy feeling about it from the start.

To make matters worse, his dog is called Algernon (Alger for short), a name uncomfortably reminiscent of Mr. Nixon's old foe, Alger Hiss.

"We definitely suspect Alger is it," Alger's master said. "When the story came out in the papers that the puppies were black and white and brown and the father was unknown . . ."

He looked at Alger unhappily. Alger is part springer, part beagle, part black, part white, part brown and something of a mistake himself.

"When I have to go out around the neighborhood and call 'Here, Alger, here Alger,' I feel like a fool," Alger's master said.

CHECKERS . . . Pup's the Same

He said Alger could pose for a picture, but the family would rather stay anonymous.

Besides, they're not positive. "The neighborhood is full of dogs," Alger's mistress said. "The Kefauvers down the street have a pack. Up until last spring all the dogs ran around loose."

"Then the police came out. They got sort of uppity. I was fined $10 for letting Alger out loose. When I asked them why they didn't fine the Vice President and Senator Kefauver, they said, well, they couldn't catch their dogs."

ALGER . . . Name's the Same

The Nixons' dog, Checkers, was always very popular and Alger's family remembers a time when Nixon was on his way to work.

"A big, black Cadillac pulled up in front of the house," Alger's mistress said, "and there was a swarm of our dogs in the front yard. Nixon had to battle his way through to get to the car."

"They were all waiting for Checkers."

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—People who have difficulty understanding why Sen. William F. Knowland now wants a review of U. S. foreign policy can get a good insight on what makes the California Republican majority leader tick by studying the natural evolution of his views.

Big Bill Knowland had no very pronounced foreign policy ideas when he was appointed to the Senate by Gov. Earl Warren in 1945. He was only 37, and he had behind him a few years' service in the California legislature plus a good private-to-major World War II record.

One of the first things he did in Washington that attracted notice came after the Russian government denied passport visas to a group of Appropriations Committee senators who wanted to inspect the U. S. Embassy in Moscow. Senator Knowland was one of that group.

He immediately demanded that the U. S. similarly restrict the admission of Russians to this country, to the same number of Americans admitted to the Soviet. He has stuck to that belief ever since and has introduced several resolutions in the Senate to effect it. None passed, but this was a start.

IN 1950 YOUNG SENATOR KNOWLAND went to Formosa. He thought Nationalist Chinese forces of Chiang Kai-shek should have more aid. He came home to recommend that President Truman rescind the orders limiting the U. S. Seventh Fleet to neutralizing action in that area. Significantly, this was one of President Eisenhower's first acts after his inauguration.

In June of 1951, when the Korean war was a year old, Senator Knowland proposed that larger contributions be made by more United Nations members for the collective forces in that area. Only 17 of the 60 UN members ever contributed.

The U. S. bore 90 per cent of the costs and with Korea furnished 95 per cent of the manpower.

In one sense, you might say that these three concepts form the basis of the Knowland foreign policy. He has never got over them. Such new ideas as he has developed from time to time are merely elaborations on these fundamentals.

THUS IN NOVEMBER, 1951, after the retreat from the Yalu and the recall of General MacArthur, Senator Knowland enlarged on his Korean policy. He proposed that the United Nations serve notice on Russia that if it did not stop aid to the North Korean and Chinese aggressors, moral and economic sanctions should be imposed on the U. S. S. R.

The next step in this development came in January, 1953, when he challenged the Soviet's right to sit in the UN. In August, after another trip through the Far East, Senator Knowland declared that if there was any way to throw Soviet Russia out of the UN, it should be thrown out.

After the Russians shot down a Navy patrol plane in the Japan Sea last September, Senator Knowland was ready to have the U. S. sever diplomatic relations with Russia.

His ideas on what to do about Red China have grown along similar lines. In January of 1953 he would have settled for a blockade of the China Coast. A few months later, when the European allies were saying that the U. S. would have to "go it alone" in any action against Red China, Senator Knowland declared, "So be it."

In January of '53 he said the nations which had recognized Red China should withdraw that recognition. In May he was ready to have the U. S. withdraw from the UN if Red China is admitted.

IN JUNE OF '53 he declared that the U. S. would have to risk war with Soviet Russia by enlarging the area of fighting if the Korean truce were violated. This year he has expanded that idea.

The policy of the U. S. should be to use its forces if necessary to keep Southeast Asia from going Communist, he said in April. He qualified this only to the extent of saying that the President should appear before Congress on committing U. S. troops abroad.

In May he declared the U. S. might have to commit its air and sea forces to save Indo-China. By September he asked for the defense of Quemoy by U. S. naval forces.

He capped this with a magazine article in which he declared that the U. S. must be ready to fight—now if necessary—to let Red China know that if her forces advance farther, indirectly as in Indo-China or directly as in Korea, she must take the consequences on the land she invades and on her own mainland.

This is the Knowland foreign policy as of today.

You get 12 EXTRA LOAVES from every 50lb. sack of KING MIDAS

HERE'S WHY! King Midas is different from ordinary all-purpose flours—different in quantity and quality of protein. It has extraordinary baking "strength," and users have long known that it actually goes farther.

HERE'S HOW! The King Midas recipe calls for 10 cups of flour to make 4 loaves of bread. Allowing an additional 1/2 cup flour per batch for kneading, that means, a 50-pound sack of King Midas will make 76 loaves.

Now check any recipe recommended for another flour. Chances are that it calls for 12 cups of flour—maybe more—to make 4 loaves of bread. Allowing an additional 1/2 cup flour per batch for kneading, that means, a 50-pound sack of the other flour will make 64 loaves—a difference of 12 fewer loaves for you to eat.

You can prove it in your kitchen!

Buy 25 or 50 pounds of King Midas. Bake with it, using our regular bread recipe. Please do not use more flour than is called for. Automatically you'll get 76 loaves of bread from 50 pounds of King Midas—38 loaves from 25 pounds.

Richness in protein makes the difference. To get this richness we mill King Midas from costly premium wheats—such as hard red spring wheat noted for protein quality. Because it goes farther, King Midas costs you less in the long run than lower priced, lower protein flours.

We found Martha asleep on Joey's bed. Except for shoes she was fully dressed. Her eyes were haggard, her wide mouth slack.

With possessive fierceness she swooped down on Joey. Holding him, she announced that he was going right home with her. He didn't object because staying with her meant a lot of attention and presents.

"But only for a day or two," I said. "He'll live here with me as soon as I straighten myself out."

She put on her shoes and they left. I tried to decide whether to make breakfast or flop down on the bed. Upstairs I heard the Gallaghers bickering. Charlotte was insisting that Ted start the furnace before he left for work and Ted declared that the weather was turning warm. The basement apartment was freezing.

Suddenly Martha was back. She closed the door and leaned against it in fatigue, her eyes partly closed behind cigarette smoke.

She said: "I had to get Joey out of here before I told you. I'll break it to him when he's in my house."

"Dina?" I said.

"She's dead, Paul."

Upstairs Grace shrieked: "Mummy, Joey is outside!" A door slammed. Then I heard Grace's voice outside and Charlotte's too.

"So they found her body," I said woodenly.

"It wasn't like that, Paul. She was alive until last night. She was shot in a Raventon street. The Raventon police want to see you. They've been phoning."

"Do they know who did it?"

"No."

I sat down. I didn't feel as if I would ever again be able to get to my feet.

"I'll tell Joey," she said.

"Thanks, Martha."

I didn't have to see her; there was no question of her identity. But I asked to have a last look at her before they cut her up in the autopsy.

Ben Helm was in the morgue with me, and a detective-sergeant named Greene. It was a mistake to have come here. There was no mortician to make her presentable, and the dead aren't pretty. Dina no longer had a doll face.

Ben Helm bent over the table, gingerly putting fingers on the back of her head. "What about the bruise?" he asked.

"Doc Gold says a bad concussion," the sergeant said.

"How recent?"

"Not last night, anyway. Doc Gold says. Could've been Thursday when Larkin was shot, but anything I ask him he says wait till the autopsy."

"Her clothes looked as if they'd been slept in for days," Helm told me. "She could have been unconscious part of the time from that concussion. She was shot on Kegler street."

"Between Cleveland and Roosevelt," the sergeant said.

"Know anybody there?"

I shook my head.

The sergeant left us on the street, and Helm and I walked to the Municipal Building where I had left my car. I knew what was on the sleuth's mind. The question came about the way I expected it.

"What time," he asked, "did

Hannah Rahn reach your place last night?"

"If you know she was there, you must have spoken to her this morning."

"The Kingston police phoned you at 1:20. How long before that did she arrive?"

"Quite a while."

He looked sideways at me as we walked, his gaze incisive for those mild brown eyes. "Don't you get tired of trying to protect every woman you know?"

"Is this the way you watch out for a client's interest?"

"Clients are always complaining about me," Helm paused to knock out his pipe against his heel. "She left me soon after 11. She could have gone to Raventon before 12."

I said: "All right, she came to my apartment at 1:10."

This time he didn't say uh-huh. We turned into the Municipal Building in which the county also had its offices. We walked up a flight of stairs and entered an outer office. All three desks in it were occupied.

A decorative redhead sat at one desk with a monitor switchboard on her right and a typewriter on her left. At the second desk Russ Handy was writing on white paper with a fountain pen. His wide-spaced eyes tilted up to us. He had no word for us, not even a nod. George Maudson, speaking into a phone, sprawled behind the third desk.

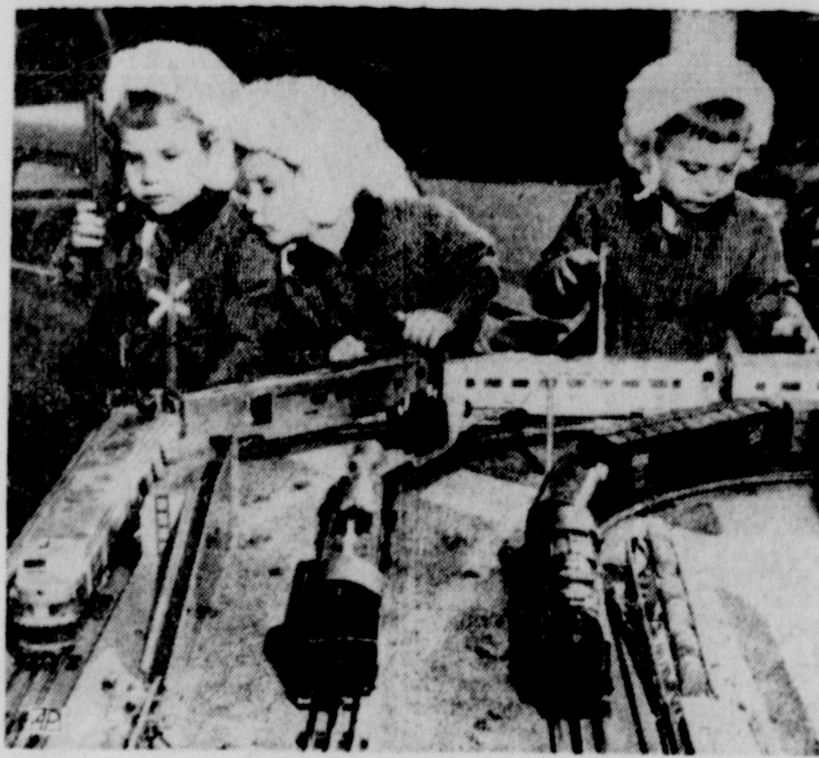

Helm accompanied me through a glass door. John Randolph sat behind an imposing oak desk. He didn't look secure there, didn't look happy. He had got the job, but he also had the headaches that went with it.

"I was glad to hear it was all a mistake about your son," he said without warmth. "There are several questions I'd like to ask you."

I crossed the office and put my hands flat on his desk. "Didn't you hear from Chief Watrous?"

"Certainly."

"Then you know that he left me at my house at 11:30 last night. You know there was a police shadow outside my house and that I didn't leave in my car then, and even if I had I couldn't have made the 30 miles to Raventon in 20 minutes.

"There's no doubt about it," Randolph brought up a sickly reassuring smile. "And if you didn't shoot Mrs. Larkin, obviously you didn't shoot Mr. Larkin either because the identical gun was used in both murders."
